

MCS 2020-21 Community Councils

Community Councils are a wonderful way for parents to engage in their student's education at a grassroots level. Working with other parents and school educators, Community Councils meet monthly to organize and develop meaningful school plans, activities, and protocols that fun, inclusive, and safe. If you would like to attend a meeting or become a voting member of your council, talk with your school's principal.

How Community Councils Work

High school councils are made up of a minimum of six parents and four employees, while all others made up of four parents and two employees. The school principal serves as a voting director, with two individuals chosen as chair and vice chair. Elected members serve two-year terms that are staggered, with no term limits. Elections are generally held each year in the Fall after school starts. Refer to MCS Policy 224 and Utah Code 53G-7-1202 for more details.
